

Coming along

Work is progressing on three construction projects within a block of each other in the center of campus. At left, workers lay concrete blocks along the rooftop of the addition to the Engineering Complex. Below, the Turner Avenue parking garage takes shape, while construction of the Donald W. Reynolds Alumni Center continues in the background.

Rob Hill photos

