

Under Construction

Cornell Hall

The University Of Missouri Campus

The University of Missouri's $28.3 million new business school, Cornell Hall is scheduled for completion in February of next year. The 150,000 square-foot project is named for Harry and Ann Cornell, who donated $3 million to the project in conjunction with their business Liggett & Platt. The state contributed $17.1 million to university for the school. The project is on schedule and plans to move into the facility are slated for June, 2002. Classes will begin at the school during the Summer semester. ❖